

One-step hierarchical models estimate average and person-level dynamics together

The trade-off

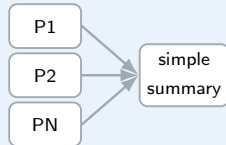

Population inference

Idiographic fidelity

current workflows often force a trade-off between these goals

Fit-many, then summarize keep person-specific models separate, then summarize

MetaVAR = keep the person-specific fits, then carry their uncertainty forward